

We are Amplifon, the global leader in the hearing care retail industry, in Germany we operate with the Amplifon brand and together we make more possible every day. We change more lives. We work on more innovative projects and make sure everyone gets the best care possible. Our passionate teams use their talent and experience to help our customers rediscover all the emotions of sound.

Are you highly motivated and ready to take over responsibility in our company? Then we would like to get to know you!

We are looking for you to join our team at the head office in Hamburg for your

Bachelor's or Master's thesis (m/f/d) on the topic of analysis and design of retail excellence processes

That's what you bring forward with us:

- As part of your Bachelor's or Master's thesis, you will analyse and design the internal processes of the Retail Excellence department. You will address the exciting question: What does an optimal supply process in hearing acoustics look like?
- You will acquire all the necessary specialist knowledge to determine the problem described above
- The analysis and summary of empirical data is just as much a part of your field of activity as the derivation of concrete implementations for our company practice
- On the basis of your research and analyses, you will evaluate and determine the concrete factors influencing our warehouse, time, consulting and data management

Your profile:

- You are studying business administration, economics or a comparable course of study, ideally with a focus on sales / retail excellence.
- Your good knowledge in the area of sales is an ideal prerequisite for your thesis
- Good MS Office skills
- A high degree of analytical skills, diligence and organisation as well as an affinity for numbers
- Conscientious approach to work and initiative

What we offer:

- During your internship, you will get to know the processes of the Retail Excellence department in a large corporate structure.
- You are free to help shape the topic of your thesis within the department
- Tasks in which you can take on responsibility from day one
- Work in an international company with flat hierarchies
- Attractive compensation for interns
